It certainly does increase the wages of the British laborer.

—While business men are reading about the big borax collapse they are also scanning the free list to see how soon the cyclone of bankruptcy will come their way.

It makes a very clever attempt, but would do better if the facts were the other way.

—Stewart and Jones each has recently had a field day. It is Jones' turn next. Jones, whom Stewart says knows more about the tariff question than any other man in either House, is getting ready. His friends may expect now at any time Nevada's senior Senator to fire hot shot, grape and canister into the already terrified ranks of free trade Democracy.—Gazette.

—Col. Ingersoll, like Blaine, is an American of Americans. Referring to the sickening adulation of Washington society towards Ministers from European Courts, he said at the Grant birthday banquet in New York:

Let us have some backbone ourselves. Let the representatives of monarchies stand No. 2. Let the ambassadors of despots come the next day. Let Americans show that they are proud of American institutions. At least we have got a history; at last we have heroes whose names are as glorious as any that were ever written.

ALLIGATORS IN WASHOE.

Strange Noises and Sights Among the Tules.

For some years past there has been a tradition among the Indians that there was some strange reptile in Washoe Lake, and none of them will ever fish there.

A few nights ago several people fishing heard a bestial croak in the tules which was much too loud for a frog and Deputy State Controller Holbrook said it sounded exactly like an alligator such as he has often heard in Florida.

Schneider, the baker, vows that he has seen a monster of some sort dragging its body through the tules and mud and it was at least 18 feet in length.

Several other parties have seen a lively commotion in the tules and heard the guttural croak peculiar to the alligator.

An Infant's Burial.

And from her fair and unpolished flesh
May violet spring."

Fishing in Hope Valley.

—It is a rare circumstance when in Southern papers we caught a true statement of the facts of any election. On this account the following extract from the Times of Manchester, Louisiana, is particularly pertinent.

"By intimidation, money and unfair count, the negroes are intimidated in every hamlet, town and parish of this State and where the intimidation effects are unsuccessful, bribery is generally successful, and in any event the count, which is in the hands of the Democrats, is always successful, as the last resort."

—Senator Teller has introduced in the Senate a bill authorizing the citizens of Colorado, Nevada and the Territories to fell and remove timber on public domain for mining and domestic purposes.

A CHINESE CHARNEL-HOUSE.

Startling Developments Made in the El Paso Chinese Quarter.

EL PASO, May 7th.—Work commences in a short time on the Federal Postoffice and Custom-house building here, for which an appropriation of $150,000 was made by Congress. The site selected is at present occupied by a large adobe building covering a whole block. Crowded together there are several hundred Chinese, with plenty of laundries, Chinese grocery stores, physicians, a joss-house, etc. It is known to be a big place for opium smoking and gambling, but these never could be directly traced to the building. Orders have been given by the owners of the land to vacate, so the property can be turned over to the United States. This order has created GREAT CONSTERNATION AMONG THE CHINESE.

They are all in a terrible uproar. The cause has just leaked out. The whole block is undermined with secret tunnels and excavated rooms, where opium smoking and gambling is carried on and other dark deeds perpetrated, which the white citizens and the owners of the property never suspected.

The Chinese have been keeping the bodies of their dead countrymen here in subterranean chambers, where they boil the flesh from the bones and then pack the latter into trunks and ship them to San Francisco for sending to China for permanent burial. In a few days the ground will be excavated for the foundation of massive Federal buildings, and startling developments will be made.

Agricultural Stations with Colleges.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Those persons interested in agricultural stations established in connection with colleges in the several States will be pleased to learn that the House has passed a bill to authorize the Governors of States to assent to the payment of such installment of appropriations as may be due. ## Crooked Work in the Sullivan Fight.

Boston, May 10.—Beckwith, private Secretary to Horace Phillips, the backer of John L.
